car song to have started life as something else. For example, 'Pamela Jean' is reported to have been written first [copyright notices, which in those days weren't always filed promptly, bear that out] before being re-written as 'Car Crazy Cutie' for this LP. Similarly, 'Cherry, Cherry Coupe' was originally written and recorded as 'Land Ahoy' in 1962." "Land Ahoy" appears as a bonus track on the Beach Boys "Double Play" CD of Surfin' Safari / Surfin' U.S.A.

"409"

Lead Vocal: Mike

Highest Chart Position: #76 (It was the B-side of "Surfin' Safari.")

This track, which was on both the group's first single and first album, made its debut appearance in stereo on this LP. However, Brian's production technique was advancing so quickly that "409" almost sounds as if it was produced in another decade, as opposed to only a year before the rest of this album.

"Shut Down"

Lead Vocal: Mike

Highest Chart Position: #23 (It was the B-side of "Surfin' U.S.A.")

For "Shut Down," Brian really perfected his combination of Four Freshmen-like harmonies with rock 'n' roll (the "tach it up" intro) and created something altogether new. The chord changes on the last two lines of each verse (e.g. "gotta be cool now / power shift here we go") were, with the exception of Burt Bacharach's work, way ahead of what was on the pop charts.

Beach Boys historian Peter Reum points out that "'Little Deuce Coupe,' '409' and 'Shut Down' were all songs which described facets of teenage life which were common to hundreds of American towns, and in many cases still are. These three songs are perfect mirror-images of the car culture which has existed in America for decades. 'Shut Down,' a description of a cocky driver whose confidence in his 'rod is unshaken, serves as the perfect foil for the sadder but wiser driver of Shut Down Volume 2's 'Don't Worry Baby,' whose invincibility has been shaken by self-doubt and anguish. The two songs illustrate two prime aspects of Brian's artistic personality: the competitive and driven hitmaker in opposition to the kid to whom stardom came quickly and who honestly wondered whether his songs were that good. Mike Love's great lead vocals were the perfect vehicle for Brian and Roger Christian's assertive masculine music and lyrics."

"Spirit of America"

Lead Vocal: Brian

In the early '60s, Craig Breedlove set the land speed record at the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah. His car was named "Spirit of America," and this beautiful ballad is a tribute to the man and the car. In 1975, it became the title song for the follow-up compilation to the 1974 Beach Boys platinum #1 hits package, Endless Summer.

"Our Car Club"

Lead Vocal: Mike and Brian

Like "Little Deuce Coupe," "Our Car Club" had just been released on the Surfer Girl album, but it fits into the theme of this album perfectly. (For more on this track, see the Surfer Girl liner notes.)

"No-Go Showboat"

Lead Vocal: Brian and Mike

Superb chord changes and a major falsetto workout for Brian highlight this song about a car that looked fine but couldn't really go very fast. The lyric about the car going so slow that it was "even shut down by the ice cream truck" is really a clever miniature piece of Americana for those who
